

BOILER LUNCHEON PROVES A NOVELTY

Residents of Sutton Place Eat
in Fire Box of Heat Generator.

Longshoremen, garden truck dealers and society folk residing in the Sutton place district were much interested in a boiler luncheon given yesterday in the fire box of a big heat generator on the link of the East River and directly under Queensboro Bridge. Its purpose was to demonstrate to irritated residents of that section where there is fire or steam heat gases and smoke and cinders and other unpleasant by-products do not necessarily exist.

It seems that with the recent transplanting of Fifth avenue households to the East Side complaints about cinders and smoke have reached the ears of the various officials of the New York Steam Corporation, which operates the plant under the bridge. And they, feeling that possibly the neighbors are not familiar with all the process of supplying steam heat to six hospitals and numerous residences and with the steps the firm has taken to eliminate all disagreeable features, decided to invite a bunch of Sutton place as could be accommodated in that portion of one of its largest boilers that is just over the fire grates, to eat, talk and be friendly.

About twenty-six responded and Sherry served the luncheon. An equal number of poets and motion picture photographers and half as many reporters were left outside while the guests descended to the inner room, which was decorated with chrysanthemums and

MILK DRIVER STABBED; STRIKERS ARE ACCUSED

15 Men Pounce on One Man
as He Starts for Work.

Albert Smith, aged 32, of 134 Rivington street, an employee of the Borden's Farm Products Company, was attacked and stabbed yesterday morning by fifteen men thought to be striking milk drivers. The assault took place at Eleventh street and Third avenue while Smith was on his way to the milk company's plant at 211 East Eleventh street.

He was taken to St. Mark's Hospital. He suffered cuts about his hands and forearms. It became known yesterday that a former milk wagon driver of the Borden company was sentenced last Thursday to sixty days in jail, charged with skimming the cream from milk bottles and selling it. The man was arrested before the strike was called, according to Patrick D. Fox, president of the milk company.

George W. Briggs, leader of the strike, asserted yesterday that more than 300 non-union men, or strikebreakers, had quit the employ of the milk distributors in the last two weeks.

UNEMPLOYMENT DECREASING.
BUFFALO, Dec. 3.—Six thousand more persons were employed December 1 in thirty major industrial concerns of Buffalo than on July 1, the high spot of the unemployment period. These figures are shown in a report issued to-day by the New York State Employment Bureau.
